DAVIS THEATER.

Homan's Musical Stock Company All Next Week.

The Homan Stock Company will begin a week's engagement at this theater beginning Monday matinee, Sept. 15th. This company composed of a three years' engagement at the scenic theater, Providence, R. I. The company will include twelve well known stars, including Martin Tooley, Betty Farrington, Malcolm Clifford, Lillian Leslie, Walter Morrison and others. During the week they will give the distinct changes of programme, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The musical comedies, including The Devil, Cohen at the Country Club, The Next Door Neighbor, which they will present, are brimful of laughter and catchy songs and choruses, with novel electrical effects. The management has secured this company at prices popular to the Davis, and in addition will give a smart line of plays, the feature being a two reel American drama entitled For the Flag, a thrilling war picture, with Warren Kerrigan, a chapter of majestic drama, and Paddy's Day Off, a screaming funny Keystone comedy, with the fat fellow supplying all the laughs. There will be the regular three shows each day, matinee at 2.30 evening at 7 and 9.45. Prices 15, 15 and 30 cents. The show given at the Davis is the same as that given at the Homan. The Homan Next Door, a laughable farce, and Counsel for the Defense, a stirring dramatic playlet. A big bill of feature photographs is being shown at this popular theater today.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Fred St. Onge and his troupe of Whimsical Wheelmen are making a big hit at this popular playhouse this week, and will appear today for the last time. There are four people in the act, and they certainly do some wonderful stunts on their bicycles and motorcycles and work in a lot of good comedy that would make anybody laugh. Harry Victor, the single man on today's bill, presents a very neat singing novelty, in which he displays his tuneful voice to good advantage. The list of photographs today is exceptionally good, and are well balanced with comedy and drama.

On Monday an entirely new show will grace the boards, and will include two high salaried vaudeville troupes, which with the regular players, Robinson Crusoe for Monday and Tuesday will make a very attractive programme. The Whirlwind DeForest, experts exponents of the latest styles of dancing, will head the vaudeville programme, and promise to give a delightful number in the terpsichorean art. Two men just from England are Budd and Clare, who do a little of everything in the comedy line, and should prove a very entertaining feature.

The picture programme will be headed by a special feature of great merit and one which has been drawing large houses throughout the country. It is entitled Robinson Crusoe and is taken entirely from the book of the same name.

KINGSTON FAIR.

38th Annual County Fair—Opens September 16th.

Fair time is almost here again, and from every indication this year's fair at West Kingston will surpass any previously held in Rhode Island.

There was a time when county fairs were very common. Nearly every county in every state had one. Today, however, the fair at West Kingston, R. I. is the only fair in that state—none survive in any other.

The management has contrived to make it an occurrence of interest and importance to numbers of people, not only in the south county, but throughout the state of Rhode Island, eastern Connecticut and southern Massachusetts. It is an event looked forward to with pleasure by thousands, and the performances of past years fully guarantee that no one will be disappointed in his expectations.

The south county fair has all the well known fair features which New Englanders everywhere have learned to love. The exhibitions alone are worth a trip to West Kingston to see. The progress and development of Rhode Island agricultural and livestock interests as recorded in this annual exhibition is such as to send a thrill of pride through every lover of little Rhode.

The executive committee reports an increase in both the number and quality of exhibits in nearly every department. This is owing partly to the greatly increased amount of premiums as prizes, as well as to the steadily increasing interest of farmers and others throughout Washington county.

One gains a new appreciation and respect for Rhode Island as an agricultural community in looking at the manifold displays of fruits and vegetables that occupy a big section of the exhibition hall each year. Every fruit and vegetable possible to grow in this climate is represented, and he in a base mortar indeed who finds no cause for enthusiasm in the well grown farm and orchard products.

The live stock entered for exhibition this year will also prove a valuable instructive feature in demonstrating the ability of Rhode Islanders as cattle raisers. The vicinity of the stalls and pens is always one of the very popular parts of the fair grounds.

The automobile patrons increase in numbers each year, city folks finding a wholesome delight in driving an old fashioned county fair. One sees here types of people whose existence in populous Rhode Island is entirely lost sight of—people who visit the cities but seldom, and who right here in the most thickly populated state in the Union live remote, sequestered lives far from the commercial influences of modern metropolises. But the Kingston fair brings them all from hillside, farm and dale remote, in every variety of conveyance, from the one horse shay to the car.

The free vaudeville show which in past years has been a most pleasing and entertaining feature of the fair will be again in evidence this year.

Lovers of racing will find a perfect feast of pleasure arranged for them in the racing schedule. The entries show a larger number of fast horses than those of any previous year, and it is expected that heats will be run every day of the fair.

The usual days will be observed—that is the first day will be devoted entirely to showing the exhibitions—agricultural, live stock, poultry, household and dairy products, fruits and vegetables, flowers and plants, textiles, art, labor saving inventions, etc.

The second day, Sept. 17, will be called Grange day. Appropriate exercises will be held in exhibition hall, and speakers of national note will be present to instruct and entertain the patrons of the fair on this day.

Governor's day, as usual, will be made notable as the occasion of the annual address and remarks by His Excellency Aram J. Potlizer, governor.

On the last day of the fair, Sept. 18, the fair will be thrown open to the children. All the children under 16 years of age will be admitted free.

Races and sports of every description dear to the hearts of the youngsters will be in order. In fact the management is leaving no stone unturned to make this day one long to be remembered by the young folks of Rhode Island.

There are special rates from all points to West Kingston on fair days, and the management, along with the children, will go down in history as the most successful yet held on the historic Fair Grounds.

BROOKLYN FAIR.

The fair of the Windham County Agricultural society, believed to be the oldest in the United States, will be held at Brooklyn, Conn., Sept. 23 (entrance free) and Sept. 24.

On Wednesday, the 24th, the exhibitions will be complete in all departments of the main building assigned for the ladies' department. On Wednesday town teams, working oxen, town steer teams and neat cattle in pens will be on exhibition, and the show will include a draught horse, horses, calves, yearlings and two year olds and trained steers will be made. The ladies' driving class for a purse in gold will start at 10 o'clock on Wednesday. The races will be called at 1 o'clock. There will be two good classes. The Mooseup National and will be in attendance.

Thursday, Sept. 25, is to be Governor's day, and Governor Baldwin, Congressman Mahan and other distinguished citizens of the state will be present. On that day there will be an exhibition of colts, brood mares, colts and yearlings, and a number of more of their get, exhibition of matched horses and gentlemen's driving class. Ladies' driving class for prizes and exhibition of decorated automobiles for prizes. The races this day are to be called at 1 o'clock. Two good classes. The Baldwin-Baldwin and Congressman Mahan will give addresses, speaking from the judges' stand. Children from county towns and under 14 years of age will be admitted to the fair Thursday without charge.

The fair committee has expended every effort to make this year's fair the most successful yet held in the state in many years, and have spared no expense to get results. The exhibition departments will be crowded by the entries of the latest styles of automobiles. St. James band of Danielson will be at the Fair Grounds Thursday.

ATTRACTIVE HAIR

The Elements That Make Beautiful Hair Found In Parisian Sage

If your hair is not as soft and beautiful, or as fresh and full as that of some friend whose hair you admire, don't give up and think you can't help it.

Do what she does—take care of your hair. It needs daily attention just as much as your plants need watering. If your hair is too thin, make it grow like any other plant. If it is too dry and brittle soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp and dandruff will go.

Parisian Sage is just what you need to make your scalp healthy and free from dandruff—your hair wavy, lustrous and abundant.

Get a fifty cent bottle at the drugists or toilet counter. Just pour a little of the liquid on a cloth or sponge and rub lightly over the hair, taking a small strand at a time. Rub a little into the scalp.

Parisian Sage so applied stops itching head, dissolves the dandruff, cleanses the scalp, and makes the hair soft and lustrous.

You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage. Get a bottle today from The Lee & Osgood Co. and try it.
